

Nursing Home Care

New York State Medicaid has changed the way people get nursing home care.

What has changed?

People who need long term nursing home care will choose a health plan to manage their care at the nursing home. New York State is making this change to help you get all the care you need.

You must join a health plan if you:

- Are age 21 or older and have Medicaid or both Medicaid and Medicare and
- Get approved by Medicaid for long term nursing home care. This means you need to live at the nursing home.

This change is now in effect in all New York State counties.

Will I have to change my nursing home?

No. You will not have to change your nursing home after you join a plan. You may change your nursing home if you want to.

How will I learn that I need to join a plan?

You will get a letter from New York Medicaid Choice. A counselor will meet with you or your representative to help you choose the plan that is best for you.
